

Announcing the 2020 Social Justice Film Festival Awards

After much deliberation, the Social Justice Film Festival and Institute is happy to announce the recipients of the 2020 Social Justice Film Festival awards for festival films. We are grateful to every filmmaker who took part in the festival this year.

Feature Documentary

Gold Prize: Since I Been Down, directed by Gilda Sheppard

Silver Prize: Personhood, directed by Jo Ardinger

Bronze Prize: Can Art Stop a Bullet: William Kelly's Big Picture, directed by Mark Street

Feature Narrative Gold Prize

Ask for Jane, directed by Rachel Carey

Featurette Documentary

Gold Prize: Liberation Heroes: The Last Eyewitnesses, directed by Vanessa Roth

Silver Prize: Suppressed 2020: The Fight to Vote, directed by Robert Greenwald

Bronze Prize: Seva, directed by Rippin Sindher

Featurette Narrative

Gold Prize: Rebel, directed by Pier-Philippe Chevigny

Silver Prize: Augustus, directed by Jon Alston

Bronze Prize: Unsaid, directed by Eric Frost-Barnes

Short Documentary

Gold Prize: The Thin Blue Variety Show, directed by Gretta Wilson

Silver Prize: La Vida de Un Latero, directed by Madeline Gunderson

Bronze Prize: Dani Burt, directed by Brian Olliver

Short Narrative

Gold Prize: Target Practice, directed by Yasmin Neal

Silver Prize: An Uninvited Guest, directed by Richard B. Pierre

Bronze Prize: Butterflies, directed by Yona Rozenkier

Youth Visions

Gold Prize: Stronger than Steel, directed by Jacob Pincus

Silver Prize: Wednesday at Elizabeth, directed by Noa Wollstein

Bronze Prize: Canary in a Mine, directed by Takaitheartist

Indigenous Futures Jury Prize

The Last Ice, directed by Scott Ressler